

Dear Parents,

This week the Y6 pupils have done themselves and the school proud! They completed their SATs tests with the greatest confidence - a testament to how hard they have worked over the year! Well done to all our pupils - each one of you has risen to the challenge; you should be proud of yourselves!

As you may be aware a new piece of EU wide legislation called the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will become law from the 25th May 2018. This regulation determines how people's personal data is processed and kept safe, and the legal rights that individuals have in relation to their own data. 'Personal data' means any information that can identify a living individual.

This new regulation impacts all organisations who handle personal data, including schools. Part of the compliance for GDPR is to make sure that any person whose personal data the school processes receives a privacy notice which clearly explains how we use their personal data and what their rights are regarding this data.

Next week this privacy notice will be sent home with all children to explain how our school processes data and who to contact for more information about your personal data. The content of the GDPR privacy notice will be difficult for children to understand therefore the notice, although for the children, is written for parents and carers as well. The school has always handled data sensitively and securely and these new regulations are to ensure that all organisations meet the highest standards when dealing with personal data. If you have any further questions, please contact the school and we will be happy to discuss how the school is meeting the new regulations.

Wishing you a restful weekend
Kind Regards
Bronwen Chalmers
Head of School
